Production Change Plans Under Way at Scioto Ordnance Plant

Conversion To Other Types of Ammunition Effected To Meet Fluctuating Wartime Needs; New Area Engineer on Job.

An important change in production activities at the Scioto Ordnance Plant, the first major change since the plant was put in operation, was announced today by Major P. S. Irvine, commanding officer.

A substantial part of the plant's production will be converted from some kinds of fuses to other types of ammunition, and already preliminary work is under way to prepare production lines for the new product.

The changeover will involve some construction work and some remodeling, but will be carried out without much change in the level of employment. If present tentative plans are followed, Major Irvine said, production of current items will be continued until the plant is prepared to turn to the new product, he said.

In announcing the change, Major Irvine pointed out that production of ordnance materials necessarily must be kept fluid during wartime, subject to increased needs of some types of materials and less demand for others. The changeover at Scioto is in line with the shifting of production from items in which there is no shortage to a new product for which there is immediate need.

Although some construction and remodeling work will be necessary, present structures will be used because they are for the most part a standard type of building which lends itself readily to various ordnance production purposes.

New Area Engineer
In connection with the changeover, Lieut. Col. Andrew L. Fabens has been transferred to the Scioto Ordnance Plant as area engineer. He will direct the conversion of buildings and installation of new equipment.

Col. Fabens has had wide experience in such work and, in coming to Scioto Ordnance Plant to direct this program, becomes area engineer in charge of all construction activities of the corps of engineers in the Marion area. That position has been held in recent months by Major H. D. L. Van Bockern, who now becomes Col. Fabens' executive officer.

Col. Fabens came to Scioto from the West Virginia Ordnance Works where he has been for five months. He has been on active duty with the corps of engineers since April 30, 1941, starting with the rank of major. Since then he has served as executive officer at the Plum Brook Ordnance Plant, as assistant chief of operations at the Ravenscroft Ordnance Plant, as area engineer at the Kingsbury (Ind.) Ordnance Plant, and at the Fair Creek Ordnance Plant in Indiana.

His home is in Huron, O. Before entering service, he was superintendent of various manufacturing plants in different parts of the country. He is a veteran of the first World War, having served nearly two years in the ordnance department. He is a graduate of Harvard and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

He and Mrs. Fabens are living at Hotel Harding. They are parents of two sons. First Lieut. Lawrence Fabens, in the ordnance department, now in Chicago, and Bruce Fabens, in the Naval Reserve, now at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Col. Fabens took over his new duties at Scioto last Monday.

In the opinion of many observers, there would be no single commander over the whole battle for Europe, if two or more thrusts were started. The overall command probably would continue to be, as it is now, a joint staff job, headed up by the President and the prime minister.

Among targets attacked by the lighter command was the seaplane base of Concarneau on the Breton peninsula. A Polish pilot sank a control boat there with cannon fire. Trains were shot up in the Villeneuve-Guingamp area and near Courtaul.

The allied aerial offensive reached new heights Sunday night as British raiders breached two of the Reich's largest dams and looted floods in the Ruhr and Weser valleys.

During the night, enemy planes again struck at London. At least 10 persons were known to have been killed. A Welsh town, identified by the German radio as Cardiff, underwent one of the worst raids since 1941. By noon the bodies of several dead had been recovered, and rescuers said it was believed that at least 20 still were buried in wreckage.

RAF BOMBERS RANGE OVER AXIS TERRITORY

Southern Germany, France and Belgian Bases Target of Extensive Raids.

By The Associated Press
LONDON, May 18.—British bombers, returning again last night to the air offensive on Europe, attacked targets in southern Germany, fighters swept northern France and Belgium, and coastal aircraft damaged five ships in an enemy convoy. It was announced officially today.

The coastal command planes attacked a convoy off the Dutch coast which was initially attacked by Beaufighters yesterday. Two of the supply ships in a convoy of eight merchantmen and three escort vessels were left sinking and were seen to be abandoned by their crews, it was stated.

Axis radios on the continent began going from the air this morning, indicating that allied raiders were continuing to blast European strongholds by daylight. First to go silent was that at Calais.

The targets in Germany were not immediately named. The new attacks were a continuation of the smashing allied aerial offensive of the night before, in which two of Germany's largest dams were breached and devastating floods loosed, and the daylight attack of U. S. bombers yesterday against Lorient, Bordeaux and the U-boat base of Keromran.

An allied headquarters communiqué announcing that Alghero in Sardinia was bombed again last night indicated that the air offensive was also being carried on relentlessly against the south of Europe.

Aircraft of the lighter command intruded, patrolled, during the night, attacked roads and rail communications, and enemy air bases in northern France and Belgium, it was announced.

The moonlight channel battle was the finishing attack of a fight started in daylight yesterday with hits on escort craft and supply ships by Beaufighters. A Canadian squadron then attacked with torpedoes.

Five Planes Missing
The ships hit by torpedoes were described as large merchantmen. Two coastal command planes, two fighters and one bomber were reported missing from the night's operations.

During the night, enemy planes again struck at London. At least 10 persons were known to have been killed. A Welsh town, identified by the German radio as Cardiff, underwent one of the worst raids since 1941. By noon the bodies of several dead had been recovered, and rescuers said it was believed that at least 20 still were buried in wreckage.

Bomber Fund Over $200,000

Yesterday's Sales Listed at $29,400; Lions Club Passes Goal; Meeting at Morral Thursday.

Marion county's "buy a bomber" drive cleared the $200,000 mark when sales totaling $29,400 were reported yesterday. This gave the campaign $201,806.23 toward its goal of $225,000.

Drive workers yesterday plunged into a busy series of activities set up for this week. One was the Lions club meeting yesterday, in which members reported to their bond chairman, J. G. Lytle, pushing the club's sales to $4,950 or within $30 of its $5,000 goal.

Thursday night, the second in a series of special county events will be held at Morral with the Marion Steam Shovel Co. chorus presenting a program at a community meeting in the Morral school auditorium. The event is sponsored by Salt Rock and Grand Prairie Granges, working with other bond drive leaders in Morral. Preparations are being made to issue bonds at the meeting as fast as orders are taken, and the Morral community is entering its bomber campaign activities around the rally, scheduled to begin at 8:30.

CENTRAL INDIANA SWEEP BY FLOOD

By The Associated Press
INDIANAPOLIS, May 18.—One of the worst floods since the disastrous waters of 1913 tore through central and northern Indiana today.

At least four lives have been lost. More than 500 families have been moved from flooded homes in Marion, Frankfort, Wabash, Indianapolis and other places. Flood waters covered thousands of acres of lowlands.

Nine blocks of sandbagged levee and the Charles Mills dam at Marion quivered under the pressure of swollen Mississippian river. Three hundred families in the area were evacuated.

Police at Frankfort moved 150 families from their homes although the city isn't even near a river. A drainage ditch running through part of the town couldn't cope with the heavy flow of water.

The Wabash river at Wabash reached nine feet over flood stage and was still rising. Seventy-five homes were cleared there. A bridge was torn loose at Logansport. A dam on Big Eagle creek gave way northwest of Indianapolis and war plant workers living west of the city were told to stay home until the waters had subsided.

STRONG RIDGE HELD BY FOE IS STORMED

Hidden Machine Guns Had Held Up Advance of American Troops.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May 18.—American forces have captured a ridge which apparently is the main Japanese defense position on Attu island, Secretary of the Navy Knox announced today.

United States troops advancing north and south across the eastern neck of the island, Knox said, have been brought very close together by this victory if they have not actually joined.

The operation against the ridge, apparently climaxes the first phase of the campaign for this island in the Aleutians and Knox reported to a press conference that despite stubborn resistance so far "our casualties are much lighter than had been expected."

The Army troops on the island, the secretary added, have the full support of warships standing off the coast and planes operating from American bases to the eastward whenever weather permits.

Capture of the important heights, while its significance awaited further military developments to be fully measurable, may have brought the Attu campaign to the point where little more remains to be done than mopping up.

Fight Started Week Ago
Knox's report on the Attu fighting, which began two weeks ago, said that the Japanese had held since last June, was made only about an hour after the Navy had issued its first detailed communiqué on this initial stroke to smash the Japanese hold on the western Aleutians.

One paragraph in the communiqué said that the American forces were advancing against "stubborn enemy resistance from numerous machine gun nests" and that the enemy troops had "entrenched themselves along a rocky ridge."

As soon as news came gathered in his office, Knox noted that the communiqué had been issued and said "we now have word that our troops have captured that ridge and have driven the enemy who are now in possession of the ridge."

The extent of enemy resistance from now on appeared to depend on whether the Japanese troops which held the ridge had retreated to new and less favorable positions or whether they were killed or captured.

Two Landings Made
The ridge runs along the main axis of Attu island in an east and west direction. To the north of the ridge is Holtz bay, and to the south is Massacre bay. One of the American landings was made at Holtz bay, and the other at Massacre bay.

The plencers began to close in from the two initial beachheads and Knox said it was his understanding that the main enemy defense force in the region south of Holtz bay was smashed by the Massacre bay landing expedition, which he described as the main American force.

Once the American line is established it would definitely pocket the enemy in the relatively small area at the eastern end of Attu and the job would become one of wiping out its installations which are chiefly located in the vicinity of Holtz bay and Chichagof harbor a few miles to the east.

Knox said that so far as he knows the rest of the island—which is the bulk of it—is without military significance and bare of Japanese installations.

Weather Is Obstacle
The secretary said that over and above the normal difficulties of an amphibious operation the one against Attu is particularly complicated because of the violent weather which at almost any time may produce high winds, heavy seas, fog, rain or snow.

SEES LITTLE RUSSIAN HELP AGAINST JAPS

Senator Predicts U. S. Will Be Left To Fight Japs.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May 18.—An appeal for prompt action of America's military and naval forces against Japan out of the war now being predicted by the Senate yesterday that after Germany is beaten the United States will be left to fight the Japanese.

"We may expect at least a partial neutralization of the British army," he added, "and we have the right to ask ourselves what help we can expect from Britain."

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) interrupted the prediction of the United States is going to be left to fight the Japanese.

Chandler expressed confidence in the United States could overcome what he termed strong German resistance in Europe, but added "we shall lose the finest boys this country has produced."

Germany knows now, he said, that all she has left is surrender because "she is ringed by allied ships and steel."

MOVE TO SHIFT TIME AGAIN

Senator Proposes To Make
Fast Clocks Legal Until October.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, May 18.—Legislation to restore eastern war time in Ohio during the summer months was ready for introduction in the Ohio senate today, but was being held up pending a survey of sentiment in the house of rep-

It appeared a majority of the senators favored a return to "fast" time, but Rep. Willis L. Cory (R) of Seneca county, a leader of the house rural bloc, said a partially completed house survey showed only seven representatives for a change and 38 against.

The legislature moved Ohio from eastern war time to the hour-slower central war time on Feb. 21, at the request of rural residents, but only one major city—Dayton—is conforming with the switch.

The senate's leadership, it was reliably reported, is reluctant to go along with a "fast" time bill without assurance the house would concur. Some senators were fearful such a move might arouse the anger of house rural members and jeopardize important pending legislation.

Fast Time Until October
The "fast" time bill, prepared by Senator Stanley Meehan (R) of Athens, would put the state on eastern war time between April and October.

It was said he would not introduce it pending completion of the poll of house members' sentiment.

The time question was brought sharply to the fore yesterday when the legislators returned to Columbus and found that the capital itself had moved from "slow" to "fast" time for the summer.

Brown To Preview Ohio Grid Plays

Buckeye Mentor Will Send Hopefuls Into Game As Clinic Feature.

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio Associated Press Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, May 12 — Ohio State University's famed football attack, which carried the Buckeye to the Western conference and national championships a year ago, will be expected to "show the ground up" in its weekend game with the Cleveland Indians at the stadium.

Close to 500 prospective players, many of them taking over the reins for the first time as replacements for war-torn and prodigal players, are expected to sit in on the Friday-Saturday sessions. The grand finale will be the annual "clinic" game — an intra-squad exhibition contest played by the Buckeye's top players.

The clinic is scheduled for 3 p. m. Saturday. Prior to that the visitors will have a day and a half of football classes in the gymnasium, at which all players of the Buckeye "parent" will be explained and demonstrated by Brown and his assistants.

The Buck coach split his squad of 22 yesterday, and the two units will drill separately the remainder of the week, each setting up its own strategy for Saturday's fray.

Brown will stick all his experienced talent against freshman hopefuls in the clinic game. The squad is composed of 24 freshmen and eight who saw some service a year ago, so the coach put the right veterans and three freshmen on his "varsity" team, and the other 21 on the "white" team, which means the veteran "red" outfit must go the entire 60 minutes.

Here are the way the squad line up, with the home towns of the players:

Reds: Don Steinberg (Toledo), Bill Willis (Columbus), Thornton Dixon (Toledo), Gordon Appleby (Massillon), Warren Amling (Pana, Ill.), Jack Dugger (Canton), Cy Souders (Bucyrus), Paul Selby (U. Arlington), Les Horvath (Cleveland), Jim Campbell (Huron), Don Stumpo (Leontonia).

Pos. White: E. Howard (Grandview), T. N. M. Anderson (Lakewood), G. W. Miller (Wapakoneta), C. Dave Krashes (Woodmere), G. Bob Gaudin (Cleveland), T. Bill Piper (Grandview), E. H. Howard (London), QB Jack Chabek (U. Arlington), LH Bill Lonjack (Cleveland), RH Lee Tressel (Ada), FB Jim Culbertson (Barberton).

Also on the "white" squad are: ends—Bob Belber of Columbus and Mike Kouris of Upper Arlington; tackles—Sam Gordon of Columbus and M. W. Kease of Dover; guards—Joe Stora of Shadyside and George Kafalos of Bridgeport; center—Emanuel Agapetus of Columbus; backs—Jim Roberts of Elizabeth, W. Va., and Glen Oliver of Columbus.

All the "red" players saw service a year ago, with the exception of Amling, Campbell and Stumpo, who—like the entire "white" squad—are freshmen.

Harding Cager Sought by Bowling Green Basketball Coach

By LOREN W. TIBBALS
Marion Star Sports Editor

From all indications basketball will be played by colleges next winter and college coaches, most in Ohio at least, haven't forgotten hoop stars like Dick Mulvaine of Harding, Charles Heskett of Gallien and Fred Schaus of Newark.

In fact these three youths, above all others in the alleged cream of the crop of last season, are being, or will be, hotly pursued by Ohio mentors. The combined efforts of this trio shattered more cage records last season than any other three players in high school basketball last season.

Of the three the Harding star will probably get the biggest play from college coaches. He's not yet 18, or in other words isn't affected by selective service.

Also he presents more possibilities as a college ball player than either Schaus or the cage Heskett. In the first place his possibilities as a basketball player have been barely scratched. Only the basic essentials required of a basketball player have been demanded of the six-foot three Harding senior in his three years as a Prexy satellite. Placed in the hands of college coaching staff which is equipped with enough manpower to allow for individual assistance, Dick undoubtedly will develop in many phases which necessarily were neglected as a high schooler.

You may say the same holds true for Heskett and Schaus? Probably so, but not to the extent it will for Mulvaine. Why? Because both these players have developed under one style of play from the time they started to play—junior high school ball through their senior campaigns, while Mulvaine and all other Harding players are subjected to one, two or three systems during the same period.

Recently I have had the pleasure of talking with one Ohio "head hunter" who like a lot of others would like to induce Mulvaine into attending the school he represents. I am referring to Harold Anderson, who gained national prominence for directing strong Toledo teams to 140 victories in 100 games over an eight-year stretch. He paused here Friday night while enroute home from a track meet with Ohio Wesleyan in Delaware.

Anderson, now coach at Bowling Green State university, is interested in Mulvaine and that was one reason for his stop over here. Likewise he would like to add Heskett and Schaus to his squad next winter.

Probably before commencement early in June "Andy" will be back in Marion to talk with Mulvaine. He was unable to contact the Harding star Friday, because at the time of Anderson's visit.

McKechnie Benches Haas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
NEW YORK, May 12.—Crunky Steve Mesner will replace Bert Haas today at third base for the Cincinnati Reds as the Reds and the New York Giants tangle for the second of a series of four games.

Cincinnati Manager Bill McKechnie said he benched Haas in favor of the 22-year-old California because of the former's erratic antics at the plate and in the field during the past several weeks.

Haas has collected a batting average of .212 to date, playing a majority of the Reds' games, while Mesner, at the plate only seven times, is hitting an outlandish .571.

Pitcher Ray Starr led the Reds back into the win column yesterday when he went the route against the Giants to chalk up a 3 to 1 victory. In addition to a sturdy mound performance, limiting the Giants to eight hits, Starr boomed out a single with the bases loaded in the second inning to send two runners across.

This was followed by another single by Lonnie Frey which drove in another run for the Reds. New York's lone tally was made in the fifth by dint of three singles.

Slated to pitch for the Reds is Elmer Riddle, who has won two and lost three this year. Bill Sayles, a rookie right-hander, purchased last winter from the Louisville American association team, will oppose him.

Flores' Father Wanted Him To Be Matador

But Baseball Wins Over Bulls and Jesse Is Star Pitcher.

By JACK SMITH
AP Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA — Back in Guadalajara, Mex., old Juan Flores 47½ loved the bulls and the bullfight. He was a Sunday afternoon with the matadors, and when he was a youngster, Jesse, Juan's son, was a bullfighter. Juan Flores, now a pitcher for the Philadelphia Athletics, was a bullfighter when he was a youngster. He had slain a bull when he was 12, and he was yet to fight a bull. But Juan has a fine collection of knives.

And if the Philadelphia Athletics were a bullfighting team, Juan Flores would be a star pitcher. He has a fine collection of knives. He has a fine collection of knives. He has a fine collection of knives.

His first big league game, Jesse never saw a major league baseball game until opening day.

JESSE FLORES
A's Good Neighbor Pitcher

April 20. But within the next three weeks he won three games, and lost one (because of poor support), and created a minor sensation by going 15 2/3 innings against Washington, allowing only five hits and no runs for a 2-1 victory.

In the same period, he out-pitched such veteran matadors as Dutch Leonard, peer of the American league's knuckleball hurlers, and Tex Hughson, who won 22 games last year for the Boston Red Sox.

Connie Mack brought this good neighbor up from Los Angeles to the Pacific Coast league, where he topped in 1941 with seven shutouts. He began his career with Bisbee in the Arizona-Texas league in 1932 and was a star from the start.

Started in Backyard

Jesse began his career in the backyards of La Habra, Calif., to which old Juan had migrated.

"Mexicans love bull fights, but they also like baseball, and I was one of those kids," Jesse says. "Sure I love the excitement of the bulls but once I started pitching baseball, I said to myself, 'Jesse, this is the game!'"

When Juan, now 73, heard his three weeks he won three games, and lost one (because of poor support), and created a minor sensation by going 15 2/3 innings against Washington, allowing only five hits and no runs for a 2-1 victory.

CLEVELAND HAS 3 BATTERS HITTING IN THE .300 BRACKET

Oris Hockett Leads List With .338; Others Are Jeff Heath and Rosar.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

CLEVELAND, May 12 — The Cleveland Indians weren't expected to sweep the horses to a 300 murderous degree this year but the current records disclose the club has three players hitting in the .300 bracket.

Oris Hockett's .338 percentage is the third best in the league. The outfielder who went AWOL during spring training started the season on the bench but got his chance when Hank Edwards failed to hit left-handed pitching. The Tribe's leading batter never has explained why he left the team and then decided to return but has promised to tell all at the close of the season.

Jeff Heath's percentage has climbed steadily in the past few weeks and he now owns a .305 figure.

Catcher Buddy Rosar, obtained in a trade with the New York Yankees, is the third member of Cleveland's .300 club. He is just over the mark with .302.

The Redskins meet the Boston Red Sox under the stadium lights tonight. Jim Bagby seeks his fifth mound victory. Tex Hughson, the Boston ace, is his opponent.

Weather caused postponement of the series opener yesterday. If tonight's game is played, a double header will be staged at League park tomorrow. If not the contest will be moved back to tomorrow night.

Weather Cuts Turnout at Golf Courses Here

Inclement weather has cut down turnout of golfers at the Mar-O-Dei and other golf courses to numbers considerably less than usual at the start of the season.

Despite wet turf and inclement rain, quite a few members of Country club have been out over the week-end. However, the Mar-O-Dei layout, located at the Mar-O-Dei, was a fairly Saturday. The GENERAL TIRE

A Doctor Friend tipped us off to this one

He came in one day and noticed the tires lined up for recapping.

"Looks like my waiting room," he said, "only those are tires."

We couldn't help but come back and say, "Well, after all, doc, we're tire doctors, too. We've spent our whole business life keeping tires well and replacing those that pass on. Incidentally, that's something you can't do, doc!"

"Oke," he said, "but since you're tire doctors, why don't you follow my system and make appointments for recaps?"

So that's why we have that appointment coupon at the bottom of this ad. When your tires need recapping you won't have to waste valuable time waiting to be served or use extra gas making trips to our store if you will send in this coupon. We'll be able to schedule the work and give you overnight recap service. (No recapping certificate is necessary now.)

All our recapping is done right in our own shop, on our own modern equipment, by skilled mechanics.

Yes, sir, when we recap your tires you are assured of dependable extra mileage.

Marion Livestock
Chicago, May 18 - Wheat prices crept upward today in a dull market that nevertheless displayed a firm undertone. Advances were credited to a lack of selling pressure, and announcement that the senate agricultural committee had approved a bill fixing a minimum price on cotton, a price somewhat above parity.
